Civil Documents and Police Certificates from the People's Republic of China

Birth/marriage/death/divorce certificates: Individuals living outside China may obtain civil documents for birth, marriage, death and divorce from the Notary Public Office with jurisdiction over their county of previous residence. Relatives or friends may request issuance of certificates on behalf of an applicant who is living abroad. Relatives and friends should have specific written authorization from the interested party requesting the documents. Alternatively, persons in need of civil documents may contact the PRC Embassy or Consulate nearest to their residence abroad and ask that their request be forwarded to the appropriate Notary Public Office. Obtaining civil documents through a PRC Embassy or Consulate can require considerable time.

Police certificates: Individuals should apply for a certificate of no criminal record at the local Public Security Bureau (PSB). Once the certificate has been obtained, individuals should then make an application to the Notary Public Office for a certificate based on the PSB document.

Unobtainable Birth Certificates

Applicants who cannot obtain a birth record should request a certified statement from the appropriate government authority stating the reason why the birth record is not available. Applicants may then submit this certified statement along with secondary evidence of their birth. For applicants who reside in Hong Kong, the Certificate of Registered Particulars issued by the Hong Kong Immigrant Department, is accepted in lieu of an unobtainable birth certificate. A similar document can be obtained from the Macau Direcção dos Serviços de Identificação.

Local Agency that Offer Assistance in Completing Visa Forms

Each individual applicant bears the responsibility for the information contained in his or her own visa application form and many complete their form on their own. However, you may seek assistance in preparing your visa application form.

Sources that may provide such assistance, often for a fee, include: cultural or religious groups (many such groups exist and have experience in assisting immigrants) and private attorneys.

ORGANIZATION THAT HAS INFORMED THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE TO PERFORM SUCH SERVICES IS:

International Organization for Migration (IOM)
Room 904, Yaumatei Carpark Building
250 Shanghai Street, Kowloon
Telephone: (852) 2332-2441 or 2332-2446

Please note the U.S. Government, including the U.S. Consulate General in Hong Kong, does not assume responsibility for the professional ability or appropriateness of the organization listed.

Police Clearances from Hong Kong and Macau

Police clearances for Hong Kong and Macau will be sent by the police authorities directly to the U.S. Consulate General. There is no need to confirm the receipt of your police clearance with either the Consulate or NVC. Please note that failure to apply for a police certificate at least 6 weeks before the scheduled interview date may result in a delay with processing the visa application.

In case NVC asks for Hong Kong or Macau police clearance, applicants should send a photocopy of their fee receipts issued by the police authorities to NVC.
